

SUBSTITUTE ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A container stopper including a body (1) of compressible material having at least one end for insertion into an opening of a container, and a film coating (F) on at least part of said end of the body (1) of compressible material for providing a protective barrier between the compressible material and the contents of the container, wherein the end of the stopper body (1) has an uneven shaped axially facing surface (2, 4, 5).